FACTORY PAINTING . . . Mrs. Joyce Swanson, of 20930 S. Dalton St., took the sweepstakes prize in the art division with her painting called "Heartbeat of Torrance." It shows a factory-studded skyline. She also won first place in the oil painting group.

"FLOWERS ARE JEWELS" . . . Sweepstakes winner in the florists' division of the Hobby, Art, and Flower show was Mrs. Bertha Kehrer, of the La Galeria Florist Shop, 1621 Gramercy Ave., with this display of pink carnations called "Flowers are Jewels."

HOBBY WINNER . . . David Beza, of 2068 W. 182nd St., won the sweepstakes cup for his ceramic vase and bowl, and took first place in ceramics and plastercraft and hand-molding divisions. He also entered several of his paintings in the Hobby, Art, and Flower Show held last week-end.

Vandals Hack Church Organ
Vandals apparently took a hand ax to the organ at the Ascension Lutheran Church. During the past week, the First Methodist and St. Andrew's Episcopal Church reported small burglaries at the churches, and several other churches have been hit recently.
Time ago, vandals entered the Crenshaw Baptist Church, 185th and Crenshaw Blvd., scattering church property around and breaking some fixtures.

NURSERY WINNER . . . Winner in the nursery division at the Hobby, Art, and Flower Show was the Tropical Gardens, 1510 W. Carson St. Shown here are the owners, Ella and Delmar Cunningham, and Jack Koebig.

GARDEN ARRANGEMENT . . . Mrs. Dione Williamson, of Manhattan Beach, poses in the sweepstakes winning garden arrangement entered by the Redondo area branch of the American Begonia Society. Mrs. Williamson was flower show chairman.

Student Talk Set Sunday
Kenneth Kuenning, student associate pastor of Morningside Community Church of Inglewood, will be guest speaker at Seaside Community Evangelical and Reformed Church, 230th and Ocean Ave., Sunday at 10:45 a.m.
The Morningside Church helped the local church to get started in their chapel unit by furnishing volunteer labor and financial support.
Child care is provided for parents during services, while classes for children and adults are held at 9:30 a.m.

Public Debate on Amendment of UN Charter Scheduled for May 18
With two eminently well-qualified authorities on the United Nations charter as the opposing speakers, a public debate on the important issue, "The UN Charter—Should It be Revised, and If So, How?" has been arranged under the sponsorship of Republicans Unlimited as part of the organization's program of community information on the leading issues of the day.
Favoring amendment of the UN Charter, as provided in that document which comes up for review next year, is Donald Fraser Keys, western field representative of the United World Federalists, which is one of the most active organizations seeking modification of the UN Charter. Keys has long been a close student of the UN and has attended many of its functions, including the recent debate on disarmament.
Opposing Keys will be Dr. William V. Lawlor, a recognized authority on the United Nations and a widely respected speaker on the subject. He is a recent winner of the American Legion's Americanism award. He takes the position ("with Mrs. Roosevelt, but for quite different reasons," as he explains it) that the UN Charter should not be amended.
Up for Review
"Because the UN charter is coming up for review and possible amendment next year, this subject becomes of great interest to all Americans," said John C. Robb, president of the newly-organized Republicans Unlimited. "Therefore, as a timely contribution to the enlightenment of our community of cities in the 17th congressional district, which is one of the primary purposes of our organization, we have arranged this public debate, to which everyone is invited."
During the past year, Robb pointed out, a special sub-committee of the United States Senate, under the chairmanship of Senator Kefauver, has been touring the principal towns and cities of the nation, holding hearings on the question of amendments to the UN charter. The public debate, he said, will provide an opportunity for the people of this great area to learn in one enjoyable evening what would otherwise require many hours of tedious research for which most citizens do not have either the time or the facilities.
Both speakers will answer questions from the audience following the debate.
No admission is to be charged, but because of limitations on the amount of seating available in the Foster Beggs School auditorium, at 15th and Rowell St., Manhattan Beach, it is urged that those who wish to attend the debate should telephone for reservations. This may be done by calling FRontier 5-4331, FRontier 2-8265, or FRontier 5-8920.
PFC Kenny Roberts Has Week in Tokyo
PFC Kenny L. Roberts, son of Mrs. Bertha Roberts, of 1841 W. 182nd St., recently spent a week's leave in Tokyo from his unit in Korea.
Roberts, who attended Torrance High School, is a diver in Company D of the 51st Signal Battalion. He entered the Army in February, 1953, completed basic training at Camp Roberts, Calif., and arrived in the Far East in March, 1954.
